Dangers of Defective Plumbing.

Defective plumbing permits the entrance into the house of sewer gas bearing germs of contagious diseases to which the human system readily succumbs.

Sewer gas is not necessarily generated in the sewer, but is frequently created in the plumbing system within the home and enters the apartments through defective fixtures.

If in doubt, consult us regarding the piping and replacing defective fixtures with "Standard" Porcelain Enamelled Ware—acknowledged as the best sanitary equipment.

CIRCUIT COURT HAS BEGUN.

A HEAVY DOCKET.

Several Murder Cases and a Large Number of Divorce Petitions.

Metcalfe, John W. Deason, Howard Brame, James McKinney, P. H. Adcock, and C. R. Bouldin. The petit juries will be made up this morning.

The case of Ed Moseley, col., one of the Pembroke negroes, charged with complicity in the murder of an unknown man Nov. 14, 1903, is set for the third day. The case of Geo. Johnson, col., charged with murder, is set for the fourth day of the term; Ed Greenwade, col., similar charge, is set for the fifth day, and A. Lisano, col., charged with murder, is set for the 7th day of the term.

The session promises to be a very busy one. The docket is as follows: Commonwealth, 98; new equity, 75; continued equity, 222; common law appearances, 45; continued common law, 46; appeals, 14.

SUDDEN DEATH

Of An Aged and Well Known Citizen.

Mr. J. D. Underwood died suddenly Saturday at his home 8 miles Northeast of the city. He spent the day here and appeared to be in his usual health. Shortly after retiring he was heard to groan, as if in great pain, and when one of his sons, who slept in an adjoining room, got to his bedside he found his father dead. Mr. Underwood was 72 years old and a well known citizen. He was a member of the Christian church. Three sons and one daughter survive. The interment took place in the Boyd burying ground at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

DEATH OF MRS. MCGEE.

Good Woman Passed Away After Long Illness.

Mrs. Eliza McGee widow of Sam'l McGee, died Sunday evening, near Howell, after an illness of three months, of consumption. She was about 45 years old and a member of the Methodist church. Deceased is survived by three children, one son and two daughters. The body was laid to rest in the family burying ground, near Bennetts town, yesterday afternoon.

Capt. Cherry Out Again.

Conductor S. A. Cherry, who was injured in the wreck on the Illinois Central road near Chapmanboro, Tenn., about two weeks ago, has so far recovered as to be able to be out. He is still in Nashville, but expects to resume his run between that city and Evansville some time this week.

MORE ABOUT MAYFIELD ROAD

Col. Landrum in Frankfort Getting Encouragement For the Road.

TO HOPKINSVILLE FIRST

We Are On a Direct Line From River to Ocean—Survey Made.

Mr. John W. Landrum seems to be in dead hard earnest about the Cairo and Cumberland Gap Railroad. He was in Frankfort last week and the following is taken from Saturday's Courier-Journal:

Railroad for Western Ky.

John W. Landrum, of Mayfield, has spent two days in Frankfort, getting signatures to a petition to L. W. Goode to push the Cairo and Tennessee river railroad to completion. He has secured the names of practically all of the State officials, headed by Gov. Beckham, assuring Mr. Goode of the State's interest in the project. Mr. Goode is a Virginian and a nephew of ex-Gov. Lowry, of Mississippi. He has become interested in a project that has hung fire for fifteen years, but which Mr. Landrum now says bids fair to be realized. The road, as projected, runs from Cairo, Ill., to Norfolk, Va., passing through Allen, Ballard, Calloway, Carlisle, Christian, Clinton, Graves, Logan, Marshall, Monroe, Simpson, Todd, Trigg, Wayne and Whitley counties, and follows a survey secured by B. A. Neale, of Mayfield, some fifteen years ago, when Kentucky and Tennessee granted charters to the company. Mr. Landrum said the road was Neale's life dream. If the project goes through most of the credit for it will be due to Mr. Neale's persistence and abiding faith.

It is believed that within the next year the road will be built through Mayfield to Hopkinsville, at least. The proposed line, it is said, is 107 miles shorter to Newport News than any other of three proposed lines.

ATHENAEUM MEETING.

Three Papers On Thursday Night's Program.

The March meeting of the Athenaeum will be held at Hotel Latham Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. Those who are on the program for papers are Messrs. John C. Duffy and Joe McCarroll and Dr. R. F. McDaniel.

The Colonel Doubly Happy.

Rev. H. C. McGill, of Howell, was made happy last week by his wife, nee Miss Thursa Lowry, presenting him with a fine girl. Mr. T. B. Caldwell is also wearing a broad smile over the arrival of a daughter at his house a few days ago. Mrs. Caldwell was formerly Miss Pauline Lowry, she and Mrs. McGill being sisters, and daughters of Col. S. J. Lowry, one of the leading citizens of South Christian.

Judge Ward Dead.

R. K. Ward, of this city, was called to Paris, Tenn., yesterday by the announcement of the death of his father, Judge Ward, of that place. Deceased was about 70 years old, and his death was from kidney troubles. He was taken suddenly ill a week ago, and his son, who had been at Paris several days, returned home Sunday night.

In Louisville.

Miss Katie McDaniel went to Louisville yesterday to attend the Superintendents' Department of the National Educational Association which convenes in that city to-day and remains in session three days. Prof. Hamlett, of the city schools, will also attend.

USE EXPLOSIVE HARPOON.

This Weapon Explodes Within Body of the Whale and Capture of Leviathan Made Easy.

The harpoon, which is the modern whale-hunter's chief weapon, is a truly murderous weapon, six feet in length and strong in proportion, made chiefly of malleable iron, and admirably designed for the slaying of the immense creatures, according to the Technical World. Its most striking feature, next to the bomb-head, which is operated by a time-fuse and explodes in the vitals of the whale, is the anchor-like device which prevents the harpoon "drawing" out of the body again under the terrible strain of the monster's frantic efforts to free itself. This consists of four hinged barbs, which lie along the shaft before it is fired, but which are forced apart and imbed themselves in the whale's body after he is hit, so that if the prize escapes—which sometimes occurs—it is only by breaking the rope.

When "fish" are numerous and there is a chance of killing more than one in a day, a novel method is adopted with the first victim. When it is seen to be dead, a hole is bored through its back into its stomach and air is pumped into it by a pipe from the steamer's engines, until it is inflated like a great balloon. The orifice is then closed with a wooden plug; and a man is left alongside in a small boat to establish ownership while the whaler steams off in quest of other prey. As many as five whales have been killed by a ship in one day; four is not an unusual "bag"; and three and two are commonly secured. A single ship killed 22 in a week; and the record year's work for one is 258—an amazing number when it is remembered that on stormy days it is impossible to cruise at all, and as the whalers bury the gun; and that during the winter months fishing is abandoned. During that period the whales "strike off" the coast to escape the ice floes, to which the torpedoes are not partial, being in this respect under the same conditions as the channels which strike north from its farthest bounds into the Polar sea itself.

MAYOR'S TEST.

Building Emptied of 1,000 People in 41 Minutes.

Richmond, Ky., Feb. 19.—During the performance of "Buster Brown" at the opera house Mayor Woods appeared on the stage and announced that he was going to make a test and see how quickly the house could be cleared in case of fire. He asked those present to get out as quickly as possible after the termination of the play. There were nearly 1,000 people in the house, which was emptied in exactly four and one-half minutes.

Paducah's Step Forward.

The people of Paducah are beginning a campaign for the issue of bonds for the purpose of building an electric light plant and water works. It is said that ninety out of every hundred persons are signing the petition to the council to order an election. Owensboro's experience with her electric light plant demonstrates the wisdom of the Paducah people in their desire. This plant has been excellently administered. It furnishes remarkably cheap lights, and is self sustaining. The commercial current furnished pays the operating expenses of the plant and turns a surplus into the treasury, while no account is made of the 275 street lights. If these were counted at the rate at which they are furnished in other places by corporations the entire plant would show a profit on the investment. Owensboro's water works are yet in the future so far as service is concerned, but it is believed that they will show the same result.—Inquirer.

The March Delineator.

In the March number The Delineator has fallen under the spell of romance which the forthcoming marriage of the President's daughter has evoked, and presents as its leading feature an article on "The Brides of the White House," illustrated with a handsome portrait of Miss Roosevelt never before published. The fiction of the number includes a short story by Mary Stewart Cutting, a clever study of child life by Virginia Woodward Ward, and the continuation of "The President of Quex," Helen M. Winslow's interesting child story. Viola Allen, the popular young actress, who recently married a southern millionaire, writes of Shakespeare's heroines from the point of view of one who has personated many of them with great success. Dr. Murray concludes his series on "The Rights of the Child" with a paper on growth and development; and a unique feature beginning in this number is "The Houses of Correspondence," the first being The Doctor's House. Stories and pastimes are supplied for the amusement of children, and in the other departments many topics of interest and value to the home are treated. Fashion of course, plays a large part in this number, and the newest styles are illustrated and described in detail.

SAVED BY A DOG.

Rat Terrier Makes Legislature Ashamed of Dog Tax.

Benton, Ky., Feb. 21.—To the intelligence of a fine rat terrier dog, the guests of the Central hotel at Benton, which was destroyed early Tuesday morning, owe the salvation of their clothes, and, perhaps their lives. The fire broke out in the rear of the hotel about 1:30 o'clock, and the little dog, which was sleeping in the hallway, ran to the door of his master's room and set up a howl that awoke the sleeping proprietors in time for him to notify his guests and save all their baggage.

The fire, which was the second that has visited Benton in the past few months and destroyed the hotel and a large wagon warehouse of Green Bros.

PROCLAMATION.

Official Order for Vote On Anti-Cow Ordinance, March 13.

Pursuant to an order of the Board of Council at its meeting Feb. 19th, an election is hereby called in the seven wards of the city of Hopkinsville to decide whether or not milk cows shall be permitted to run at large in the city of Hopkinsville. The present stock ordinance contains a proviso, which reads as follows:

"Provided, however, that the owner of any milk cow, which is a quiet and peaceful disposition, and is in no sense vicious or roguish, may while such milk cow is giving milk for family use, turn such milk cow upon the public streets, alleys or commons of said city between the hours of sunrise and sunset in the day time."

The qualified voters of the several wards will be given an opportunity to vote for the repeal of this proviso, which will make it unlawful for live stock of any kind to run upon the streets. The election will be by secret ballot, but not under the operation of the regular election laws. A ballot will be printed in the form below:

Are you in favor of an ordinance prohibiting milk cows from running at large in Hopkinsville?

YES. ☐

NO. ☐

This ballot will be handed to each voter, who will mark with a pencil in the small square opposite "yes" or "no," fold the ballot and return it to one of the judges, who will deposit it in a box which shall be locked at 8 o'clock and not be opened until 4 o'clock. A majority of the votes cast and counted shall determine the will of the ward, and if four of the seven wards vote in favor of the proposed ordinance, the council will pass it at its meeting March 13, to take effect not later than 30 days from that time.

The several wards shall vote at the following places:

First Ward—City court room.
Second Ward—Moynan's Hall.
Third Ward—Latham Warehouse.
Fourth Ward—Cor. 7th and R. R.
Fifth Ward—Livery stable, Main St., bet. 4th & 5th.
Sixth Ward—Fouls' coal office.
Seventh Ward—Livery stable, 7th and Elm streets.

The polls shall be opened Tuesday, March 13th, promptly at 8 o'clock and closed at 4 o'clock p. m., city time. The officers shall, as soon as the polls close, open the boxes and count the votes, in the presence of at least one representative of each side, make a certificate of the result and deliver the ballot box and the certificate to the city clerk at his office, corner Fifth and Main streets, not later than 5 o'clock p. m.

The officers to conduct said elections shall be two judges and a clerk to be appointed by the mayor on or before the 10th day of March. Both sides will be represented in the appointment of the officers. Each side is requested to furnish to the mayor on or before March 9th a list of at least three persons in each ward who will serve as election officers without expense to the city.

By order of the council,
CHAS. M. MEACHAM, Mayor.

Common Colds are the Cause of Many Serious Diseases.

Physicians who have gained a national reputation as analysts of the cause of various diseases, claim that if catching cold could be avoided a long list of dangerous ailments would never be heard of. Every one knows that pneumonia and consumption originate from a cold, and chronic catarrh, bronchitis, and all throat and lung trouble are aggravated and rendered more serious by a cold, fresh attack. Do not risk your life or take any chances when you have a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure it before these diseases develop. This remedy contains no opium, morphine or other harmful drug and has thirty years of reputation to back it. It is sold by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, Up-to-date druggists at Hopkinsville.

Itch—Ringworm!

E. T. Lucas, Wingo, Ky., writes, April 25, 1902: "For 12 years I had been afflicted with a maddening itch. The itching was most unbearable. I had tried for years to find relief, but having tried all remedies I could hear of, beside a number of doctors. I wish to state that one single application of Baird's Snow Liniment cured me completely and permanently. Since then I have used the liniment on two separate occasions for ring worm and it cured completely. 50c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Cook & Higgins.

Lame Back

This ailment is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles and may be cured by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm two or three times a day and rubbing the part vigorously at each application. Such a condition may be best and quickest relieved by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Mrs. D. W. Smith, writes, April 3, '02: "I use Herbine and find it the best medicine for constipation and regulating the liver. I ever used. 50c. Sold by Cook & Higgins.

Croup

Begins with the symptoms of a common cold; there is chilliness, sneezing, sore throat, hot skin, quick pulse, hoarseness and impeded respiration. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, (the child will cry for it), and at the first sign of a croup, cough apply frequently Ballard's Snow Liniment to the throat.

A Habit to Be Encouraged.

The mother who has acquired the habit of keeping on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, saves herself a great amount of uneasiness and anxiety. Croup, colds and croup, to which children are susceptible are quickly cured by its use. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and if given it soon as first symptoms of croup appear, it will prevent the attack. This remedy contains nothing injurious and mothers give it to their children with a feeling of perfect security. Sold by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, Up-to-date druggists at Hopkinsville.

The Weather.

The following forecast for Kentucky was sent out yesterday: Rain or snow to-night, followed by clearing and much colder Tuesday.

Ex-Speaker D. B. Henderson, of Iowa, died Sunday of paresis at his home in Dubuque.

Senator J. Embury Allen, of Lexington, was married Saturday to Miss Virginia Hart, of Cynthia, Ky.

The first attempts to close theaters on Sunday were made in Louisville Sunday. The parties arrested will take the matter into the courts.

The Singer Sewing Machine Co., is to build a 40-story skyscraper in New York, surmounted by a tower 40 feet higher than the Washington monument. It will be 591 feet high.

Emperor William, of Germany, is celebrating his silver wedding to-day. His second son will be wedded on to-day's anniversary to the Duchess Sophia Charlotte, of Oldenburg.

Indictments have at last been returned at Jackson against Jim Hargis and Ed Callahan, charging them with complicity in the murder of J. B. Marcum. A. H. Hargis was not indicted.

The Indianapolis Sentinel, until recently Tom Taggart's paper, has suspended, leaving the city without a Democratic organ. Wm. R. Hearst is expected to establish a paper in Indianapolis soon.

Johann Hoch, the husband of 34 wives, at least 12 of whom he was believed to have murdered, was hanged at Chicago Friday after many delays. He died bravely, protesting his innocence of murder, but admitting that he was a bigamist.

A negro rapist was tried in three hours at Shreveport, La., last Saturday and sentenced to be hanged next Thursday. Gov. Blanchard was present in court and signed the death warrant.

Only thirteen days of the legislative session now remain. Of the 750 bills introduced, only a small number have passed. The Revenue Bill is still occupying undivided attention in the House. It will go to the senate about Thursday.

At Shreveport, La., a mob of 500 men shot to death Wiltse Page; a negro, aged thirty years, and afterward burned his body near the town of Bienville. He confessed that he attempted to assault Sarah Gant, aged eleven years. Page was taken from the deputy sheriff who started to jail with him.

The Senate compromise on the Carmack county unit bill is bitterly opposed by the prohibiting advocates. It makes the county the unit in local option, but excepts all cities above the fifth class, making the city one unit and the county another in counties containing cities. The compromise is likely to pass in the House also.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional remedy. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietor has so much faith in its curative powers that he offers One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. ### Barnes Briefs

Barnes, Ky., Feb. 24.—This is the month for sowing oats, but the farmers of this section have seeded none as yet. Since the ground-hog made his appearance they have been enjoying themselves sitting around their log fires.

Esq. N. O. King had the misfortune to lose a fine young jack from distemper. He had refused an offer of $200 for the animal and valued him at $400.

Mrs. Carolina Barnes, of Kelv, has been very ill for a week or more, and grave fears are entertained as to her recovery, owing to her advanced age—86 years. She is the widow of G. W. Barnes, who died about thirty-five years ago.

Mrs. James R. King, of the Antioch neighborhood, visited relatives here a few days ago.

Mr. C. W. White and wife and Mrs. Charles Carter visited the family of Esq. L. B. King, near Kelly, last week. The special object of their visit was for the purpose of seeing the Squire's new daughter, who made her advent about two weeks ago.

Mrs. Virginia J. Barnes has been on the sick list for some time, suffering from rheumatism and other troubles.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fruit and their baby, Carl, visited the family of Mr. E. M. Barnes Sunday. The many friends of Mr. Gus Robinson, of Fruit Hill, will learn with much pleasure that his health is much improved.

Mr. E. M. Barnes is suffering from something similar to influenza, and has a very bad cough. He was taken with a severe chill and is annoyed by considerable fever also.

Mrs. Virginia B. West, our merchant and postmistress, has a very sick daughter, Miss Georgia. She has pneumonia, following an attack of whooping cough. Her condition is thought to be somewhat improved, though. SENRAB.

NOT CERTAIN.

Large Apartment Building Not Among the Probabilities Just Now.

Three or four months ago this paper pointed out the necessity for a large apartment house and suggested the Hopson property, on South Main, as the most eligible site for the building. The demand for such a building is greater than ever and becomes more and more so as the days pass.

The matter has for some time been under consideration by several parties, some of whom have had their eyes on a lot on East 9th street and drawings have been submitted. The cost of construction of a plan made by one architect has been figured on and would cost $30,000. This plan, though fully up to the demands, has been abandoned and probably the scheme with it.

However, it is perhaps not so with the Main Street plan. The necessity for a large building is generally recognized and a company may eventually be organized to build on another and much larger plan, but it is useless now to undertake to particularize as nothing definite can be given, though it is said that one prominent firm has signified its willingness to take stock to the amount of $10,000.

Four Arrests.

The police have made four arrests since Saturday morning. All for breaches of the peace.

$40,000

Subscribed in Two Days to the Cotton Mill Stock.

In a conversation yesterday with one of the committee having charge of the matter of raising the $50,000 stock for securing the cotton mill, he spoke in the most encouraging manner. In two days the committee raised $40,000 and there will be no trouble whatever in bringing the subscriptions for stock up to the required amount. The gentlemen said that in a few days it will be up to the Eastern capitalists to do what they have proposed to our people or make a square back-down. What they will do will probably be decided in the next forty-eight hours.

The committee, in the course of his conversation, said that the proposition is the most popular one that has ever been submitted to our local capitalists, both in the city and county. The great and permanent benefit is so obvious to a reasonable man that those having money to invest seem anxious to encourage the location of the cotton mill here, and some subscriptions may be doubled as soon as the Eastern people make public what they will do.

The End of the World

of troubles that robbed E. H. Wolfe, of Bear Grove, Ia., of all usefulness came when he began taking Electric Bitters. He writes: "Two years ago Kidney trouble caused me great suffering, which I would never have survived had I not taken Electric Bitters. They also cured me of General Debility." Sure cure for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney complaints, Blood diseases, Headache, Dizziness, and weakness or bodily decline. Price 50c. Guaranteed by R. C. Hardwick's drug store.

REGISTERED MAIL

Service Between Nashville and Chicago to Be Improved.

Another car to be placed in the railway postal service between Nashville and Chicago, to facilitate the passage of registered mail from those places and intermediate points. The car will be placed on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois trains Nos. 5 and 6, running between Chicago and Evansville, and to connect with the L. & N. trains Nos. 53 and 54. It is expected that by this addition to the service registered mail can go from Chicago from Nashville in 24 hours and from Hopkinsville in 22 hours.

CITY BANK'S NEW HOME.

Invitation to Public to Attend and inspect Tomorrow.

A REGULAR BEAUTY.

A Blending of Beauty and Comfort and Convenience.

AT HOME

FROM 9 A. M. TO 5 P. M.

WEDNESDAY.

FEBRUARY 28, 1906.

TO EVERYBODY.

The City Bank extends the above invitation to its friends, neighbors and the public generally.

It is now back in its old home, after being across the street for 8 months, patiently waiting for the many changes desired by the officers and their consulting architect.

Of course the bank has been at a very considerable expense in bringing about the change that has been wrought, but expense has been disregarded.

The handsome stone front building is certainly a great improvement over the one in which the bank had its birth 25 years ago, but which, in its day was fully up to the demand of popular taste.

The interior of the building is worthy of a visit from every one who has interest in the growth and development of our city. You cannot fail to admire the exquisite taste displayed as well as the air of blend of solidity and perfect adaptation. The mahogany design, light shade and highly polished, is probably the first thing on entering that strikes the visitor. The railing above the counters is of oxidized nickel in appropriate design and makes a most favorable impression when your gaze takes in the green marble counter base resting on the tile floor of the banking room proper.

To the right as you enter is the ladies' nook. It also is of mahogany and is furnished with chairs and table of the same material. This nook will be highly appreciated by ladies as a place where they can rest and make out their checks or attend to any other business connected with the institution. The ceiling is beautiful with its divisions, separated with huge mahogany beams, the center of each square being ornamented with clusters of gas and electric bulbs.

The president's room is separated from the lobby by a low mahogany railing and is finished in a manner that suggests both comfort and harmony with the other surroundings. Behind the counters are the desks of the book-keepers. These are of highly polished mahogany and the very latest designs, which add largely to the general appearance of the modern banking room.

The directors' room is the addition to the building, is a very handsome apartment with its hardwood floor partially covered with a large rug. The furniture in this room is of the same expensive material used throughout the first floor of the new building.

Everything about the new home is modern and up-to-date, and the text ensemble is suggestive of neatness, artistic in conception and the acme of perfection in arrangement for the banking business, elaborate yet not loud pretensions, but just what the city now needs: coming to the front as one of the leading and growing cities of the State. The second story of the building is highly worthy of inspection. It has been divided up into two suits of three rooms each. Dr. J. B. Jackson uses the first suit and Dr. E. N. Fruit the second. The same elegant and comfortable arrangement prevails here as on the first floor, and more handsome professional quarters cannot be found anywhere in the city.

Of the personnel of the City Bank it is needless for us to say anything. They have been so long identified with this institution, in building it to its present standing, one of the most stable institutions (its stock to-day worth $2.50) of the State, that no word of commendation is needed. These gentlemen will be glad to

What a Variety!

Yes indeed, and they're all needed. Nowadays plumbing isn't the kind that prevailed in Washington's time.

Plumbing Trade

Of-to-day requires proper training to acquire skill in workmanship. We are modest, but have to acknowledge no work is better than ours. Engage us.

They do not expect to have exactly "a house warming," but any of the officers will be glad to show you through. Go and look and you will realize that every detail is in keeping with the times and that spirit of enterprise, is manifest in our banking institutions, and that Greater Hopkinsville has no better friends than the men who are at the head of our financial institutions.

The officers of the City Bank are: E. B. Long, president; W. T. Tandy, cashier; J. A. Young, assistant cashier; with the following directors: W. W. Garnett, E. B. Long and W. T. Tandy.

A Combination of Good Looks

And Durability!

That's what our Harness is--smart looking, full of style and strong in quality and workmanship. It's the kind that can be depended on when the horse jumps or plunges. The selling of Harness is not a "Department" of our business--it's part of it. Do you catch the distinction? Whether for work or for pleasure, heavy or light, single or double, we have it and the fixings that go with it.

The price of hides and leather is soaring every day. Tanners and harness manufacturers are out of breath trying to catch up before it gets entirely out of sight. Most harness users will pay a big advance in price this year. We bought our stock when prices began to jump. Consequently there's a notable difference between our prices and those quoted elsewhere--and it's in your favor. The stock won't last long. At our prices it's too good a thing to escape the wide-awakers. Better drop in before the game is over.

We do not guarantee situations to prospective students in order to get their patronage. Schools of merit do not resort to such dishonest practices. Fair schools "guarantee" situations in order to secure students, because they have no other inducements to offer. Our work is so thorough that a guarantee is superfluous. Business men are so eager to get competent help here that a large per cent. of our students take positions before they graduate. See us before making arrangements for your business and shorthand education at Jones Interior Sales School. We will take pleasure in telling you all about the opportunities in this "position guarantee" of dishonest schools. Catalogue free.

WeeMacgregor on the Pier

By J. J. BELL

(Copyright, 1926, by Joseph B. Bowers.)

"Heck! Macgregor, ye're goin' too quick for me," gasped Mr. Purdie, as the youngster whose hand he held hurried along the Railway Esplanade in the early afternoon sunshine.

"I could go quicker, granpaw."

"Deed, ay! Ye're young an' supple! But the boat 'll not be in for more than half an hour. So we'll just take a seat for a wee. I'm gettin' old, Macgregor, I'm gettin' old."

"Ay, ye're very old," said Macgregor, agreeably.

"But I'm not that old," said Mr. Purdie, hastily.

They took a seat facing the bay. Macgregor proceeded to haul in a tin steambot which he had been dragging after him since they started on their walk, while his grandfather drew from the case a well-seasoned meerschaum.

"I see a boat comin'," exclaimed Macgregor, ere they had been seated for five minutes.

"Where? Oh, ay. But that's not the right boat. Wait till ye see a boat wi' two yellow funnels."

"I like red funnels better than yellow ones. Why is maw comin' in a boat wi' yellow funnels?"

"Ye maw dinna like the water, an' the boats wi' yellow funnels don't come so far as the boats with red funnels. Here! Put this in your mouth."

"I like peppermint lozengers," observed Macgregor, drawing in his breath to get the full effect of the lozenge. "I like lemonade also," he added, presently.

"Are ye dry?"

"Well, ye'll maybe get a bottle before we go to the pier. What hae ye been doin' for ye steambot? It's all smashed--see!"

"A laddie stepped on it," said Macgregor, holding up his toy. "But the steambot went round his leg an' cut him an' he went away weepin'. Why is there not a band?" he inquired, looking round at the bandstand.

"It's not the season yet."

"Why isn't it the season? I like a band wi' a big drum. Will there be a band in the morning, granpaw?"

"No, no. Not till the summer. If my cough's no better I'll maybe hide in Rothsay till the summer, and then ye'll come back an' stay with yer granpaw an' me, an' hear the band."

"Ay; it's very bad at night, Macgregor."

"I once had an awful bad cough," said Macgregor, thoughtfully. "I took oil, but it didn't do me any good. It might be better before the summer, granpaw."

Mr. Purdie smiled. "Would ye like my cough to be better before the summer, Macgregor?"

"Ay, I--I would like to bide in Rothsay, too."

"I'm thinkin' I'll try the oil," Macgregor.

"It's real nasty to take. But it might make yer cough better before the summer. . . . Rothsay's a nice place, isn't it? . . . I'm goin' over to look at the water." Macgregor slipped off the seat, and dragging his steambot behind him, went over to the railings of the esplanade.

"Ye're not to climb up," cried Mr. Purdie, rising in alarm. "If ye was fellin' in there ye would be drowned."

"There's an awful lot of water to-day," remarked the boy, as his grandfather put an arm round him.

"Ay, ye see, the tide's in."

"I'm going to sail my boat now."

"Ye cannot sail it there."

"Can I? See! Macgregor lowered his toy with the string till it touched the water a yard beneath them.

After several partial swampings it was induced to float on a comparatively even keel. "It's swimmin'," he exclaimed in triumph, as he jerked it about. And then the string slipped from his grasp and he turned to his grandfather in dire dismay.

"Poor laddie," said Mr. Purdie, looking about for help in the shape of a rowing craft.

"My boat, my boat!" wailed Macgregor, softly.

Old Mr. Purdie went down on his knees, suppressing a groan as he did so, laid his pipe on the ground, like leaning over the edge, endeavored to secure the string with his walking stick. For several minutes he wrought, but all in vain, and then Macgregor cried out that his boat was sinking. It was too true! Damaged, doubtless, by many a stormy passage on dry land, and also by being tramped upon, the luckless vessel had gradually filled, and now it was being slowly but surely submerged. Mr. Purdie, in great distress, endeavored to save it with his stick by getting a hold of the metal rigging, but his sight was poor and his hand shaky, and he only succeeded in giving it a prod amidships, which precipitated the disaster. Down, down, in ten feet of clear water it quietly sank, while its owner could do nothing but watch and wail. "My boat, my boat!"

Mr. Purdie rose, rubbing his knees and coughing. "I'm real vexed, Macgregor," he began.

"My pipe, my pipe!"

Alas! troubles never come singly. Macgregor had lost his beloved boat; Mr. Purdie had tramped upon and reduced his dear old pipe to atoms.

"My boat, my boat!"

"My pipe, my pipe!"

The boy gazed despairingly into the depths; his grandfather stared gloomily at the ground.

"Dinna cry, laddie," said Mr. Purdie, at last.

"I'm not cryin'," returned Macgregor, rubbing his eyes with his sleeve and sniffing violently. "Thae's be perovvled the trouble which had befallen his companion."

"Why--" he began, and stopped, strictly dumb by the distress in the old face.

"Macgregor," said Mr. Purdie, taking out a shabby purse, "ye'll maybe get yer boat when the tide goes out. I'll tell the man over yonder to keep his eye on it. An--an--ye're no to cry."

"I'm no cryin', granpaw."

"Well, I'm real vexed for ye. An' I would not like ye to be meetin' yer maw with such a long face. There's a sixpence, Macgregor. Just run over to the shops an' buy anythin' ye hae a fancy for, an' I'll wait for ye here."

Having thus delivered himself, Mr. Purdie heaved a big sigh and looked once more at the wreckage at his feet. The meerschaum had been a presentation, and he had valued it exceedingly.

"It was gettin' old like hussel, but it wasna near done for yet," had been the substance of a frequent remark of his friends to him during the last five or six years. And now--now it was done for.

"Are ye not goin' to the shops?" he asked his grandson, who was still looking at the sixpence.

"Ay, I'm goin'," said Macgregor. "Thank ye, granpaw," he added, remembering for once his mother's good instructions. And, his small visage wreathed in smiles of joyful anticipation, he ran off.

Mr. Purdie saw him disappear into a fancy goods emporium, and then stooped down and gathered the fragments of his pipe into a large red handkerchief, which he carefully deposited in a side pocket of his coat. After that he marked the place where Macgregor's toy had sunk, and toddled along to tell the nearest boat-hirer to look out for the wreck at low water. He was beginning to get anxious when Macgregor reappeared, jubilant, dragging behind him a clattering object.

"It's not a boat," said Macgregor, smiling. "It's a beast."

"A beast?"

"Ay, granpaw. An aggligator."

"A what?"

"Aggligator! That's what the wife in the shop said it was. Look at its feet! It can swim, but I'm not goin' to put it in the sea."

Mr. Purdie examined the new purchase. "Oh, I see," he said, at last. "It's a crocodile, Macgregor."

"Naw, it's not a crocodile, granpaw, it's an aggligator."

"Well, well, it's a queer-like thing to buy anyway; but if ye're pleased with it, that's all there is about it. Now, it's time we was goin' to meet yer maw."

Macgregor gave his disengaged hand to his grandfather, and they proceeded placard. Silently they went for a minute, at the end of which Macgregor remarked: "I didn't spend all my sixpence on my aggligator, granpaw."

"Did ye not? What did ye pay for it?"

"Pounpence. I bought some striped balls."

"Did ye?"

"Ay, but I didn't spend all the tipence on them."

"Ye would keep a penny for yer pooch, like a wise laddie."

"Naw. I bought ye a pipe, granpaw," said Macgregor, grinning. He released his hand and dived into his pocket.

"Well, I never!" said Mr. Purdie, receiving a small paper parcel from his grandson. "To be sure, the child mislaid me!" he murmured to himself. He patted Macgregor on the head and removed the paper.

"It's an awfu' nice kind o' pipe, granpaw," said Macgregor. "Ye put water in it, an' then ye blow, an' it whistles like a birdie!"

Mr. Purdie fairly gaped at the instrument of torture in his hand. For a moment he seemed to be stunned. Then he exclaimed: "It beats everythin'." It was only stopped by the advent of a cough.

"Do ye like it, granpaw?" asked Macgregor.

"Fine, laddie, fine!" said Mr. Purdie, when he had recovered his breath. "Dod, ye're paw'll have a good laugh when he sees my new pipe. Ye'll hae to learn me to play on it, though."

"Ay, I'll learn ye," said Macgregor, graciously. "Granpaw, I'm very dry. Well! I near forgot yer lemonade. But we'll soon put that right, Macgregor."

Telephones By Measure.

To the Editor of the Kentuckian:—I have just received a large sheet, headed "Two Telephone Companies." The East Tennessee Always in the Lead. Stating telephone service should be considered a commodity and measured like corn and wheat, or any other commodity.

I have been trying to figure out how long I purchased corn, wheat, etc., dealing in futures, when I paid the Cumberland Telephone Company $2 per month for so-called telephone service, measured out to me from about 500 people, and if I wanted to talk to any one in the country not on the Hopkinsville exchange, I measured out from 15c to 25c and then measured out 3 minutes.

I may be a sort of a fool, but I prefer having my telephone service measured by the Home Company. Subscriber, Clarksville Pike.
